

Learning Journeys

Learning Journeys is a new program developed from the Teddy, Me and You program. Learning Journeys will build upon all of the wonderful aspects that encompassed Teddy, Me and You.

Projects in the class will focus on process rather than product. We will get our hands dirty at times and think out of the box by using each of our 5 senses. The program will still contain the appropriate amount of structure needed to introduce and prepare young children for the classroom setting.

Learning Journeys will have daily routines such as circle time, story time, learning how to follow directions, snack time, and more! Early recognition of basic skills will be introduced within our hands-on discovery. Social interaction and early conflict resolution skills will also be introduced. We will have occasional art projects and will also utilize the gymnasium or playground weekly to exercise coordination and gross motor skills. We also hope to have special visitors throughout the year.
